I have never liked following rules that tell me how things are supposed to be. Like, you should publish with a traditional publisher or you should do your own illustrations, publishers do not like that.

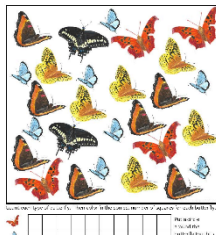

I was always told that I could do anything I put my mind to, and here I am self-publishing a children's book with illustrations that I did. Has it been a crazy, difficult journey? Yes, with so many new things to learn and much trial and error.

If you have ever had a big dream that you are longing to fulfill, take the leap and let your wings grow. There is no stopping you when you charge full steam ahead. Yes, there will be obstacles along the way, but it is all for your greater good.
