

CarrieAnne

My book is released this month! Saturday, May 8th, the day before Mother's Day. I did that on purpose. I choose Mother's Day weekend because it just felt right. Being a mother of two, now teenage girls, I wanted to show my daughters that it is never too late to work toward your dreams. This book was many years in the making. Did I want to give up, certainly, and did for a short time, but that doesn't matter. What matters is that I continued through the challenges and created the book that was in my head. So if you are in the middle of a dream and it doesn't seem to be coming together, don't give up! The next moment could be the one that makes everything fall into place.
